Online Content Sponsorships

Amp up your advertising strategy with a content sponsorship that grabs reader attention in an editorial setting.

Online Advertorial

Written in the style of an editorial or an objective, journalistic article, an advertorial is an advertisement providing information about your product or service within the larger context of a story. Advertorials can also include valuable, lead-generating calls-to-action like "subscribe to our newsletter", "watch our video", "receive a callback", "complete a survey", or "sign up for an event".

Single Sponsor Takeover

Display spaces on the home page and other high-traffic areas can be taken over by your branded visuals. This strategy is most effective when aligned with an event like a trade show, a product release, key legislation, or other big news.
Website Wallpaper Sponsorship

Captivating background visuals that make for a high-impact statement

Make a bold statement with a wallpaper sponsorship that will capture the reader’s full attention. This highly visual ad unit allows you to deliver your brand message in context with surrounding content on the homepage and other high-trafficked pages on the website.

Specifications

Leave Blue Portion Blank
Website Ad Overlay

Focus the reader’s attention the moment they land on the website

Eliminate competing noise and gain the undivided attention of your target audience by positioning your brand message front and centre on the page.

- 300x200 (mobile)
Media Sponsorships

Reach your target audience in new and engaging ways through a video sponsorship or podcast sponsorship.

Boost your exposure with a listing in our comprehensive Construction Directory, Canada’s largest database of active industry professionals.
